COLORADO.

Gathering of the Clans.

DENVER, January 3 A majority of the members of the legislature have arrived in the R. M. Stephenson, candidate for clerk the house, has no apparent opposition and M. Clark, of Lake, will probably be clerk the senate. Doe, of Clear Creek, and Carter, of Arapahoe, have the strongest following for speaker of the house.

Asking Recognition.

DENVER, January 3. The Republican this morning has the following remarks on the candidates for favors from the new legislature: now appears as though W. M. Clark, of [Lead]ville, would have no opposition for secretary of the senate.

The names we hear prominently mentioned in connection with the speakership of the house are Colonel W. H. Doe, of Clear Creek, B. Carpenter, of Arapahoe, and J. A. Coulter, of Clear Creek.

R. M. Stevenson, the genial, great-hearted, jolly former editor of the Pueblo Chieftain, has no opposition for clerk of the house.

Paul Deice, of Huerfano, will be a candidate for interpreter.

For messenger of the house, Charley Clinton, of Arapahoe, will be a candidate.

M. Swem will probably be sergeant-at-arms of the senate.

Hangers-on will receive but few clerkships. The workers will be rewarded.

For president of the senate, A. S. Weston, of Lake; Matt France, of El Paso, and H. R. Wolcott, of Gilpin, with Wolcott apparently in the lead.

Halsey M. Rhoads, a pioneer of Colorado, and a reporter of extensive acquaintance, will be a candidate for engrossing clerk. Give the boy a show.

Washington News.

A NEW SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

WASHINGTON, January 3—Owing to legal doubts as to the authority of the president to appoint Secretary Ramsey as secretary of the navy from time to time, he will nominate some man

GUESSES AT THE CABINET

CHICAGO, January 3.—The Journal's Washington special of Saturday says: While Secretary Evarts was entertaining his brother cabinet officers and two leading members of the house, one from New York and the other from New England, the conversation drifted into a free exchange of opinions regarding the composition of Garfield's cabinet, and the conclusion was reached that the following would prove to be nearly correct: Secretary of state, Senator Blaine; secretary of the treasury, James F. Wilson, of Iowa, secretary of the interior, D. [Ma]gills, of California; secretary of war, Don Cameron. The secretary of the navy was accorded to some southern republican, the attorney general to New York and the postmaster general to Indiana. Secretary Evarts was certain that Blaine would be his successor and New York would be given the attorney general.

CHEYENNE RIVER SIOUX.

The Cheyenne River Sioux delegation started homeward this evening. In taking leave of Secretary Schurz, they expressed great regret at his approaching retirement from the interior department. They said they had advanced further in the white man's way and had been more prosperous during the last four years than ever before and they regarded him as the best friend they ever had The Brule and Yankton Sioux will remain several days longer, the secretary having granted the request made by the Indians that they should be allowed to see congress in session

NEW SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The discovery that Secretary Ramsey's appointment as temporary secretary of the navy for an additional ten days is illegal, has given rise to a rumor that each of the other cabinet officers will similarly, in turn, be designated to fill the position. But it is not yet clear that this would be admissible under the law and the present indications point rather to the appointment of some one to serve during the remainder of President Hayes' term with an understanding that he will be reappointed by President Garfield. It is believed that some correspondence on this subject has recently passed between Hayes and Garfield but it is not known upon whom, if any one, the choice will fall. Meanwhile the names most prominently mentioned by current gossip are those of ex-Senator Sargent of California and General Wickham of Virginia.

SUPREME COURT IN SESSION

The Supreme Court of the United States reassembled to-day after holding a recess. All the justices are present except Justices Hunt, Clifford and Woods. The last named will probably take his seat on the bench Wednesday or Thursday. No decision rendered

DISTRIBUTION OF DOLLARS

The distribution of standard silver dollars from the United States mints during the month of December amounted to $1,807,481, for December, '79, it reached 1,935,921.

DISCUSSING A NEW APPORTIONMENT.

The democratic members of congress now in Washington seem to be unanimously of the opinion that some apportionment measure will be passed this session and say the dominant majority fully intend to take action on the subject. Representative Thompson, of Kentucky, a member of the census committee, remarked to day that in view of the general mandatory provision of the constitution concerning congressional apportionment, he thought this congress would be guilty of grave dereliction of duty if it failed to pass an apportionment bill. Besides, he said the legislature of eighteen or nineteen states, which will be in session within a few days, could redistrict those states under an immediate reapportionment whereas should the apportionment be left to the next congress most of them would be put to the trouble and expense of an extra session. He believes an appointment can be promptly enacted regardless of any real or imaginary effect upon the parties and says his colleagues on the census committee share these convictions and will labor to secure the desired action. It is understood that the committees are inclined to leave it to the house itself to determine what shall be the total number of representatives for the next decade and will report only the necessary frame work of a bill together with several alternative propositions. As the aggregate membership of California will gain one member under any one of these propositions it's probable that before a conclusion is reached there may be a considerable interesting debate as to how far the 14th constitutional amendment is contravened by seats in the north as well as south, by property qualifications and various other restructions on the right of suffrage.

CHRISTIANCY'S DIVORCE CASE.

The deposition of Edil Giro, taken in New York, in behalf of Mr. Christiancy in his suit for divorce, has been given to the press. He testifies that he was introduced to Mrs. Christiancy by A. Ruise, a Peruvian banker, on the voyage from Lima, that he registered her at the St. Nicholas hotel, New York, as Mrs. H. H. Wharton, at her request; that she came to his room at the St. James hotel, in this city, and that there he had intercourse with her, after having dined her and a lady friend at a restaurant. The counsel for defendant will move to strike out this last portion of the deposition when the court meets, owing to threats being made to Giro.

GRANT TO BE PLACED ON THE RETIRED LIST.

The belief is gaining ground within the last few days that the McCook bill to place General Grant upon the retired list of the army with the rank and retired pay of a full general, will, after all, be favorably reported and passed Speaker Randall expresses himself very decidedly in its favor, and a number of prominent southern members, including Alexander H. Stephens and General Joseph E Johnston, of Virginia, have also committed themselves to its support. A similar feeling prevails among the southern senators, and, as it will in no way interfere with the rank of General Sherman, he and his friends are also satisfied to have it enacted.

SOME MORE CABINET GUESSES.

A local paper to-day publishes a letter from ex-Senator Mitchell denying a statement made by it that he is trying to obtain a place in Garfield's cabinet. After emphatically denying that he has ever had any such idea or aspiration he takes occasion to remark, however, that in his opinion General Garfield ought to select one cabinet officer from the region west of the Rocky mountains, as a matter of fairness and justice to its business interests, totally regardless of political considerations, but he adds that so far as he is advised Oregon has not presented any name in this connection. It is generally believed that the vacant secretaryship of the navy has been offered to Representative Morton, of New York, and declined by that gentleman, although accompanied by an assurance that Garfield would retain him

ROUTT SPOKEN OF

The Washington quid nunes assign the interior department under Garfield to the Pacific slope or some far western state like Colorado, with Governor Routt as the most likely subject for the choice to fall upon. Statements are also put forth to day with much positiveness that Don Cameron, being tired of the senate, will be given his former position as secretary of war. It is not thought that the south will have any representative in the new cabinet.

New York Politics

NEW YORK, January 3—The Herald's Albany special says A Wheeler boom for the senatorship has been started in right by northern county men Assemblyman Breeran of Malone, leads the movement, and the arrival of a large caucus delegation of Wheeler's friends from the north is promised for Monday The ground on which Wheeler is urged is, that his nomination would be substantially a compromise between the two great republican factions His advocates hope to hold the balance of power between them in caucus and prophesy that he will be the second choice of both They number at present about a dozen senators and assemblymen

Bad for McLaughlin

NEW YORK, January 3—The Sun says the Kings County Charity commission yesterday organized under the new law with only three members W M Shipina, C J Henry and James Ryan took possession not only of all the county buildings, but also of the Kings county penitentiary. The control of all these institutions is now in the hands of the anti-McLaughlin democrats, and Hugh McLaughlin has been stripped almost bare of the patronage he has possessed for many years.

Another Great Railroad Scheme

ST. LOUIS, January 3,—Nearly a million dollars has been raised in the city to aid in the construction of the St Louis & Texas narrow-guage railroad, a line which is now being built from Texarkana to Waco, Texas, and which it is designed to extend from the former point to Cairo, Illinois, there to connect with the narrow gauge road to St Louis. It is also intended to push the road from Waco to the Rio Grande to connect with the Palmer Sullivan system, which is to be constructed to the city of Mexico, under the concession lately obtained by General Palmer, of the Denver & Rio Grande road, from the Mexican government It is also in contemplation to ultimately build a narrow-gauge road from St. Louis or Cairo to New York, and then have a continuous narrow-gauge line from the latter place to the city of Mexico. A syndicate has been formed in New York to carry out this grand project, and sufficient money to complete the road, it is said, has already been raised. The line between Cairo and Texarkana will be finished in the course of the year, as the work of construction will be pushed from both ends.

A Nauchtical Romance.

CHICAGO, January 3 The Inter-Ocean's New York special says: Augustine Daly has received an unexpected addition to his colony of Nautch dancers and jugglers, who arrived a few weeks ago from Hindostan. The addition was made at half past 11 on New Year's evening, when a baby was born, of whom they hereafter will call Oomdat, the twelve year old bride of Abdulalally, mother, or whatever the equivalent in Hindostan may be for that term of relationship and affection. Oomdat is the fairest of the Nautch dancers under contract to Mr. Daly Mr. Daly's family physician, Dr. J. W. Dowling, assisted by Dr. Swift, his colleage, were present at the birth of the boy, which must become historical from the fact that young Abdoalally, who weighs four pounds and four ounces, is the first Hindoo child born on American soil. The mother and child are doing well.

Garfield's Policy

NEW YORK, January 3. The Tribune of yesterday gave prominence to the following editorial The time seems fit for at least one statement about the approaching administration of President Garfield. It is not to be used as a makeweight in the pending senatorial contests—whether in New York or elsewhere. We are fully authorized to say this, and the words are entitled to their full significance. It is proper to say further that the incoming administration will see to it, that the men from New York and other states who had the courage at Chicago to obey the wishes of their districts in balloting for president, and who thus finally voted for Garfield, shall not suffer for it, nor lose by it. They will not fail of honorable recognition for their independence, their courage, and their resolute pursuit of the policy they believed best for the republican party and for the country. The gentlemen of Albany, who are said to have been threatened with a different course at Washington, may reassure themselves The administration of President Garfield is to be an administration for the whole republican party. It will most earnestly seek the things that make for peace and for the best interest of the party it represents But it will not permit its friends to be persecuted for their friendship. Who ever has been persuaded to doubt this, may as well make henceforth a declaration of independence from the dictation of any authority, save the wishes of his constituents and his own convictions of policy and right

New York Tribune on Mining

NEW YORK, January 3—The Tribune prints over two pages of tabular statement of the mining industry in the United States, It says: It will be seen from the statistics we present that the past year has not been a favorable one for speculative mining operations. Stocks have as a rule gone down and distrust has taken the place of buoyant and exaggerated confidence. At the same time the business, regarded as a productive industry has more than held its own The number of dividend paying companies has nearly doubled The total yield of ore is remarkably steady and an exceedingly good percentage has been earned on the capital actually invested in land, machinery and working expenses, while the industry is constantly expanding conquering almost every month new fields and drawing to itself additional forces in the way of capital and men

Garfield's Diplomacy.

NEW YORK, January 3—The World this morning says a dispatch from Berlin says General Garfield has written to the editor of a German review, expressing joy at the cordial relations which exist between Germany and the United States. There seems to be no real basis for the rumor that Carl Schurz will be designated by General Garfield to supercede Mr. White here.

English Matters.

NEW YORK, January 3—The Tribune's London special says: Cabinet councils are held almost daily Gladstone opened the first meeting on Wednesday, with a caution as to the desirability of preserving secrecy, supposing the younger members to be unaware of this obligation. This is understood to refer especially to one radical member, generally credited, perhaps erroneously, with supplying information to the Standard Notwithstanding the usual caution a number of inspired gueses appear in the newspapers. Similar hints circulate in society Chamberlain's friends assiduously disseminate doubts respecting coercion in any form, opposing especially any suspension of the habeas corpus. They are said to be offering a compromise. A disarmament bill with a strong act against "Boycotting," and other forms of intimidation, and the renewal of the peace preservation act are spoken of Some radicals proclaim themselves more openly than ever to be opposed to coersion in any form and under any circumstances, endeavoring thus to counteract the extraordinary effect produced by the letter to Gladstone from those seven hundred magistrates. Nothing could have more powerfully impressed English opinion than such a declaration from such a source For the anti coercionists nothing seemed left but to convert the present secret confederacy with Parnell into an open alliance with the prospect of being joined by a board of those irresponsible Tories who are eager to embarrass the government at any cost and by any means The usual queries against Gladstone are heard on all sides The Tories are publicly and privately spreading absurd reports as to an imminent breaking up of the ministry, the dissolution of parliament and an election resulting in a conservative triumph,

A Discontented Parliament.

NEW YORK, January 3.—The Tribune's special from London says: The administration will have to face a discontented parliament next week and that it will encounter much opposition on the very principles formerly laid down by Gladstone with so much fervor He denounced bitterly under the Beaconsfield regime, the policy of carrying on the national business in secrecy, but even the Spectator to day feels obliged to join in the general complaint against the present administration. The course of the ministers in Ireland, it says, certainly baffles all attempts from without at an explanation and from within no sort of explanation is vouchsafed

Parnell openly expresses his intention of taking his seat in the house of commons at the opening session Thursday.

Of Course "No One to Blame "

CHICAGO, January 3—A. E. Goodrich president of the Goodrich Transportation company, denies in toto the charges made by the coroner's jury at Grand Haven, Michigan, that the company's steamer Alpena, which went down last October, with all on board was in bad condition, unseaworthy, with inadequate and worthless preservers, with incapable sailors for a crew, and with at least one rotten life boat. Mr Goodrich declares that these charges are unsupported by the facts and that the conclusion that the company should be held responsible for all the damages arising from the disaster is also unwarranted.

B. W. STEELE,
Manager of the Gazette.

Fredericksburg, Va., has its water works frozen up. We are not alone in our misery.

We give elsewhere a large mass of statistics gathered from different state papers, which are exceedingly valuable.

The Denver Republican rightly concludes that parts of Arapahoe's assessment are "not only swindles, but absurdities."

The Denver Inter Ocean has come out with an address to General Garfield, asking for the appointment of ex-Governor Routt to the cabinet.

It is said to be decided that Blaine will go into Garfield's cabinet. This is improbable. In that office Blaine could have no opportunity to show his brilliant powers.

If the assessment is true Colorado Springs is richer than Denver. If it is not true, our merchants are more honest. We seem to have the advantage in any case.

The New Year's editions of the different papers in the state are simply immense. They will be circulated throughout the last and will splendidly advertise the state.

It is estimated that capital amounting to $4,807,000 was invested in business in Denver during the past year. Still the merchandise in Denver is estimated at only $1,481,140.

The progress made by Colorado Springs in the last two years is well illustrated by bids received for our bonds. Two years ago they sold with difficulty at 80. Now the same class of bonds are at a premium of 3½ per cent.

Colorado in 1877 produced nearly $8,000,000 in gold and silver. This year her product is $23,000,000. Next year Gunnison county and San Juan will begin to produce largely and the product will be swelled to over $30,000,000.

There was some discussion in Denver a few days ago of come business men with the agent of the Union Pacific road on overcharges. The agent maintained that corrections were promptly and willingly made. In proof of this, the agent appealed to the manager of one of the largest business concerns in the state, asking if he had any trouble about over charges. "No," was the reply, "because I ceased long ago making any claims." This is the case with most business men.

Secretary Schurz has made a mistake in allowing the Indians to remain and witness the meeting of congress. During the war the experiment of demonstrating to the Indian the power of our government was tried, by showing the Indians the battle of Chancellorsville. The result was that the Indians went home and got up a war because they saw the whites fighting among themselves and thought they could not pay any attention to them. We fear the same effect, if congress is visited by them. Anyway Weaver and Sparks should be locked up during the time.

The Springs GAZETTE is painfully convinced that Denver has suffered a dishonest assessment. Let 'em attend to their own affairs, while you gather the shekels—said to be hoarded for those bright lights who attend to their own business strictly. [Leadville Democrat.

The Democrat mistakes the issues. Denver's under assessment lessens her state tax. For county or city purposes it is a matter of indifference how low or unjust Denver's assessment is. It is our business to see that El Paso county does not pay more than her just proportion of the state tax.

The legislature that meets to-morrow will probably have several railroad bills to consider. Such legislation is in many ways dangerous, but there are some grievences that ought to be redressed. The greatest and most inexcusable one is over charge from inaccurate weight and classification, particularly the former. Some of our eastern roads have shown so little inclination to correct these mistakes, that many merchants have endured the loss rather than take the vast amount of trouble necessary to secure redress. A corporation can always tire out private individuals if it chooses. The complaints that have been sent in have usually been pigeon holed somewhere and that has been the last of them. The legislature should enact some law which will enable our merchants to get their goods promptly and not pay more than the right tariff and the weight calls for. This would free our merchants from one of the greatest and most annoying of these railroad grievances. The legislature can easily adopt some law which will abolish this evil and yet do no injustice to railroads.

Colorado Statistics

COLORADO'S COMMERCE.

From the Denver Tribune

The commerce of Colorado considered at the close of one of the most prosperous years the state has ever experienced presents a wonderful healthful appearance. As gratifying as the figures were for 1879 those of the year just concluded are doubly so. Through the courtesy of the commercial agency of R. G. Dun & Co., the Tribune is permitted to give below a correct and complete list of all the new traders in Colorado for the year, the places where the traders are located and the capital employed. The total number of new dealers in the state since 1879 is 4,635, the number which went out during the year was 2,119. The failures were 70 with total liabilities of $510,000 and total assets of $350,800. Of the new traders 15 per cent deal in liquors, including restaurants and hotels, 25 per cent deal in groceries, provisions, meats, fruits and vegetables. The balance includes the various other branches—dry goods, boots and shoes, hardware, clothing, drugs, etc. There have been a large number of manufacturing enterprises started, including saw, planing and shingle mills, wagon factories, foundries, wagon shops, numberless brick yards, lime kilns, flour mills, grain elevators, ice houses, breweries, soap factories, paper mills, etc. Each new trader represents an average capital of $2,000. Mail is distributed to them by 375 post offices, the number now established in the state. In addition to these traders there are railroad contractors who represent a capital of $900,000. There are seventy banking houses now in the state and there has been an increase in the jobbing trade of Colorado over the business of 1879 of fully 50 per cent. The new towns started in the state where business is now transacted number 65, there were 110 of these in 1879 and 175 in 1880. Of the seventy failures reported, two thirds occurred in Gunnison and Lake counties, and were caused mainly in the first county by merchants inexperienced in the mountain trade taking in large and fine stocks which the production or rather non-production did not warrant. In Lake county the failures were mostly caused by the over doing of business before the entering of the railroad, which caught many with large stocks that decreased in value, and competition being keen the weaker dealers had to succumb. That Colorado trade is considered desirable is evident from the fact that eastern jobbers and manufacturers freely grant four and six months' time as an inducement to credit customers. This, while regarded as an unhealthy stimulant, at the same time shows the confidence that is placed in Colorado merchants and their prospects. Following is a complete list of the new trades started in Colorado during the year, giving the place of business and the distinct number started at each place, together with the total capital employed. In conjunction with the items of information given above, it makes a valuable contribution to the history of the state:

The product of 1879 was $10,189,521, which, compared with that of 1880 shows an increase for the year past of over 50 per cent in the export.

COLORADO'S INTERNAL REVENUE TAX.

From the Georgetown Miner.

Colorado presents its claims for a public building. If a large income and constantly increasing business is the basis upon which public buildings are distributed in the land, this state has a just claim upon the general government. The figures presented below will show the amount of internal revenue tax this state (and territory) has paid since 1863, and the constant rate of increase:

Years.	Amount.
1863	$ 21,078
1864	41,160
1865	132,392
1866	150,613
1867	151,686
1868	119,219
1869	60,999
1870	73,910
1871	69,993
1872	63,272
1873	75,749
1874	61,855
1875	70,331
1876	82,668
1877	75,474
1878	83,507
1879	166 039
1880	193,474
Total	$1,687,836 84

No income tax was collected after the year 1868. The national banks of the state pay direct to the treasurer of the United States. If the amount they pay was added to the above it would show that the grand total of tax paid would be fully $2 000,000. Since Mr. Wolfe has been collector (January 1, 1879,) he has collected $320 313 49. The table given shows interesting comparisons on which, for want of space, we cannot elaborate. The receipts for December, 1880, were $16,589 25, against $9,567 68 for the same month in 1879. The business is constantly increasing.

AGRICULTURE.

The following interesting facts on agriculture and the range are taken from Senator Stanger's Colorado Farmer for the current week:

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS OF 1880.

Articles	Acreage	Quantity.	Value.
Wheat	52,000	775 000 bush	$ 910,000
Oats	80,000	350,000 "	[illegible]
Corn	[illegible]	200,000 "	140,000
Barley	3,000	80,000 "	80,000
Rye	[illegible]	60,000 "	[illegible]
Potatoes	5,000	500,000 "	750,000
Vegetables	20,000	....	2,000,000
Alfalfa, Timothy and Clover	1060	3,000 tons	55,000
Hay	75,000	75,000 "	1,500,000
Small fruits	2,000	....	500,000
Total	191,500		$6,031,[illegible]

From the Denver Times.

The drouth of the past season has not and a tendency to increase the agricultural products of the state. As compared with 1879 there is a marked decrease in all classes of agricultural products, especially in wheat, although prices have been somewhat better than ruled last year. To arrive at any really accurate statement in regard to the amount and value of farm products is almost impossible—it can only be accomplished by a careful and intelligent estimate, which the Times gives as follows:

	Bushels.	Value.
Wheat	650,000	$ 780,000
Oats	450,000	337,500
Corn	200,000	120 000
Barley	100,000	50,000
Rye	25,000	25,000
Potatoes and Vegetables		1,750,000
Total		$3,062,500

To this may be added the hay crop a short one, and estimated not to exceed 75 000 tons at $20, or $1,500 000; also dairy products not less than $250,000, and straw and fodder which will this year be not less than $25,000, and the total value of Colorado's agricultural product for 1880 will approximate $4,837,500. This is nearly one and a half million dollars less than it was estimated by the Times to be in 1879.

Mr. A. Watrous, editor of the Ft. Collins Courier, states the grain crop of the Cache-a-la Poudre valley, as gathered from the threshers, as follows: Wheat, 91 970 bushels, oats, 41,339 bushels, barley, 5 44[illegible], total, 138,756 bushels. He also estimates the total grain yield of Larimer county at 200,000 bushels.

THE PRODUCT OF THE STATE.

The appended is a reasonable estimate of the entire production of the state:

Lake county	$15,050,000
Gilpin	2 250 000
Clear Creek	2 000,000
Summit	1,000 000
Boulder	400 000
San Juan	600,000
Park	400 000
Custer	600,000
Total	$22,300 000

As compared with the yield of 1879, which was quoted as being $16,300,426, this shows an approximate increase of $7,000,000.

THE BRICK PRODUCT.

From the Denver Times.

The extent of building operations in Denver is well illustrated by the manufacture of brick in and about Denver. There were made for the Denver demand in 1880, a total of 76,700,000 brick, as against 36,800,800 in 1879,—more than double for the current year. At $6 per thousand, the average price at the kiln, the value of this one industry to Denver reaches the extraordinary sum of $460,200. The value of the brick product to the state can therefore be safely placed at $1,000 000.

THE CATTLE PRODUCT.

From the Denver Times.

For many years the cattle interest has been one of the leading and most remunerative industries in the state. The present season has been the least prosperous ever known to our stock growers, and the shipments the lightest since they began to assume prominence among the industrial products of the state. The severe drouth affected the grass to such an extent that cattle failed to fatten as usual on the range, and as a consequence the export was small, and made late in the season. The shipments for the present year over the Union Pacific from Colorado points have been 723 cars, as against 1 000 in 1879, and 350 car loads over the Kansas Pacific as against 741 car loads last year. Allowing the same decrease for the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe, which last year shipped 1 550 car loads, and credit it with 750 cars, and the total shipments for 1880 would be 1,823 car loads, or a trifle over one-half of last year's shipment. At twenty head to the car the number shipped would be 36,460 and at an estimated value of $30 each, the net product to the state would be $1,053,800.

THE LUMBER PRODUCT.

From the Denver Times.

The product of lumber in Colorado will not vary much from last year, the supply to home dealers being about the same as in 1879. While the product may have fallen off in some parts of the state, it has certainly increased in the Gunnison, and the country beyond the range. The amount handled in the Denver market is closely stated at 18,500,000 feet, which is about one third the entire product of the state. At $22 50 per thousand, its wholesale rate in Denver, the total lumber product would be 55,500,000 feet, valued at $1,248,750, which amount, lath, shingles, telegraph poles, posts, etc., will swell to at least $2,000,000.

THE FLOUR PRODUCT.

From the Denver Times.

Large amounts of capital are invested in the flouring mills of the state and as good flour is manufactured in this state as as any in the country. The bulk of the flour produced is of course in the vicinity of Denver, whose mills yield an annual product of 300,000 sacks, as stated by competent authority. The mills at Greeley, Longmont, Boulder, Loveland, Fort Collins, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Canon, Trinidad and other points produce as many more, giving a total of 600,000 sacks valued, at not less than $1,800,000.

WOOL, HIDES AND TALLOW.

From the Denver Times

Wool growing has had a rapid growth in the state, and now ranks as one of the leading interests of the state. While our sheep men have suffered, with the cattle men, from the lack of feed on the range, owing to drouth, still there has been a marked increase in the clip for 1880. Mr. [illegible] R. Wright, the well posted secretary of the Wool Growers' association, is authority for the statement that the wool product in 1880 was 8,250,000 pounds, which was obtained from two and a half million sheep an average of three and a half pounds to the sheep. At an average value of twenty cents per pound, the value of the wool clip to the state would be $1,645,000. Mr. Wright's estimate of the clip of 1879 was 7,000,000 pounds—the increase for the year being one and a quarter million pounds.

The value of hides, sheep pelts and tallow exported and used in the industries of the state, will not vary much from last year and may be stated as follows: Hides, $7[illegible]000; sheep pelts, $225,000; tallow, $7[illegible]00.

About forty thousand head of fine sheep have been imported from California, as well as a large number of Merino rams, the policy of our sheep growers being to improve the quality of the clip as well as of the sheep, by crossing with the native or Mexican ewe.

THE COAL PRODUCT.

From Denver Times.

The coal product of Colorado is increasing annually and is becoming one of the most important factors in our mineral wealth. The total product of the nine mines worked in the northern part of the state in 1880 has been, as near as can be ascertained, 306,150 tons; and of the mines of the Colorado Coal and Iron company at Canon, Walsen and El Moro, 231,164 tons. The other coal mines of Southern Colorado will be covered by an estimate of 50,000 tons, making a total coal product of 487,314 tons, which at $4 per ton gives $2,249,256 as the value of the product of our coal mines.

ABE ROBERTS,
Proprietor of Mounta neer.

The W. S. Jackson Hose Company No. 2 will hold their regular annual meeting this evening in their usual place of assembly. A full attendance is requested as new officers are to be elected—and other business of importance transacted.

There was a surprise party at the residence of Mr. C. H. White's last evening. The affair was informal and thoroughly enjoyable. Some of the customs of the ladies were very elaborate and elegant. Music was furnished by Tout's orchestra, and was of most excellent quality.

The Rev. W. L. Slutz was kindly remembered by his congregation on both Christmas and New Years. On Christmas he received a purse of $30, and on New Years eve he was again surprised at the parsonage by a call from a large number of his congregation, when he was presented another donation amounting to $45

The number of transient and regular boarders who partook of meals at the Spaulding House on New Years day was 124 Mr John Himebaugh, the proprietor, requested all to register their birth place before entering the dining room and by this means he ascertained that the guests represented 25 states and 11 foreign countries Out of the 124 Pennsylvania contributed 18 and Ohio, New York and Illinois 11, each of the remainder, scattering. The Spaulding House has done an exceedingly large business during the past year, its receipts being $26 000 as against $18 000 for 1879, thus showing an increase of $8,000. The average number of meals furnished daily was 312 and over $8,000 was paid out to employes. This is a remarkable showing and plainly indicates competent management.

Public Library.

The meeting of the Library Association held at the library rooms yesterday afternoon, was adjourned until next Thursday at 3 o'clock p. m. All persons who may feel an interest in the continuance of a public library in our city, are urged to be present at the meeting in question. In a previous issue by mistake the meeting of yesterday was announced for Thursday afternoon; that is the time now fixed for the adjourned meeting.

Personal.

Mr. J. F. Seldomridge returned Sunday from an extended visit east.

The Hon. W. S. Jackson returned from his eastern visit on Sunday.

Hons. C. E. Stubbs and C. W. Barker left Sunday night for Denver.

Messrs. A. Sutton and Sam Westerfield spent New Year's in Leadville.

Mr. F. C. Cherry, for some time past night agent at the depot, has gone to Leadville where he will assume a prominent and responsible position on the D. & R. G.

Mr. Fred. H. Conant, mining editor of the Leadville Herald and one of the most capable gatherers of mining news in the state, spent Sunday in the city and returned to Leadville on the night express.

About the jolliest crowd that made New Year's calls on Saturday was Messrs. G. S Barnes, D. J. Martin, H. T. White, Dr Reynolds and Mayor Bacon. They commenced early and kept it up late and concluded with an old fashioned dance at the residence of J. S. Barnes on Nevada ave

Col. Bacon, our worthy mayor and his wife, leave to day for the south on a pleasure trip They had their arrangements made to leave December 1st, but the accident to the water works of the city detained the mayor. He has devoted his time faithfully to the welfare of the city since his election to the mayoralty We wish the colonel and Mrs. Bacon a pleasant journey and a happy return.

City Council

The regular monthly meeting of the city council convened at the council room in Union block last night at 7:30 There were present Mayor Bacon, Aldermen Giddings, Rogers, Brown and Walker. The most important business of the evening was the consideration of bids made for the recent issue of the water bonds. The bids submitted were as follows

C. H. White for $2 000 at par.
H. Q. Cooper $1 000 at 102½
H. Ames & Co New York, all at 100 to
J. Hewberger all at 101
I. W. Rollins, Denver, all 100
Jones W. Sigafus, all at par
Mrs. J. M. Sigafus, all at 102½.

The bonds were awarded to Mrs. Sigafus at 102½.

The next business for consideration was the investigation of the bids for the sale of the condemned iron pipes,

The following bids were offered

C. J. Phenetel, $20 per ton on ground
H. L. Hughes, $23½ per ton on the cars at Colorado Springs
C. B Lamborn, on cars at Colorado Springs, $25.
J. F Carr, $26 on ground
Colorado Iron Works, Denver, $1 60 per 100 delivered at Denver

The bid was awarded to the Colorado Iron works at Denver, with an allowance of $2.20 per ton freight.

In accordance with the request of the council the city clerk received the following bids for the transportation of the condemned as well as the sound pipe from the excavation to the city lot in Colorado Springs:

N. W. Bacon, all at $1 25
H. A. Rowley, the sound pipe at $1 25
Mackey & Co., all at 95c.

The contract for hauling the iron both condemned and sound from the trenches to Colorado Springs was awarded to Mackey & Co. at $95c.

Obituary—Horatio H Hooke.

We notice in another column the death of Midshipman Horatio H. Hooke, on the 2d inst., at Manitou Mr. Hooke was a sufferer for two years. He was a son of Mr E G Hooke, now of Manitou, and graduated at the United States Naval academy in June, 1878 He was a bright and promising young gentleman, and his untimely death is a great grief to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance At the time of his death he was only 23 years of age. The funeral services will take place today from the late residence of the deceased, in Manitou, near the Cliff House, at ten o'clock a. m.

CONCERNING THE DIVIDE.

Dairying and Stock Raising Among Its Principal Industries

The New Years edition of the Denver Tribune contained an exhaustive article on the agricultural resources of the state, which was prepared under the supervision of Mr W. B. Pabor. From this article we extract the following concerning the Divide.

The Divide lying mainly in the northern part of El Paso county has some agricultural development, but excels as a dairy region. Its climate is somewhat different from that in the northern or southern sections of Colorado, in that it usually has rainfall enough to grow grain and vegetables The season of 1880 was an exception, however The crops utterly failed, no rain falling until the latter half of July. The altitude is over seven thousand feet, and it may be this fact, combined with the extensive area of timber upon it, may give in ordinary seasons the rainfall necessary for the germination, cultivation and ripening of crops. The hay crop and the potatoe crop are generally large, and the last named of fine quality. But as the streams are few in number and small in volume, irrigation can only be carried on in favored localities where valleys widen out into broad and bottom lands; hence the season has been more disastrous for the farmers upon the Divide than elsewhere, where the canals were in operation. Wheat, oats, rye and barley are the staple crops Considerable attention has been paid to millet, and this forage plant seems to be quite in favor. In ordinary seasons over one hundred thousand bushels of grain and fifty thousand bushels of potatoes are raised. This year, however, scores of fields were entirely abandoned, and good judges set down the yield of grain at twenty thousand bushels, and the potato crop at ten thousand. As these dry seasons frequently occur it cannot be said that the Divide is favorably adapted to the pursuit of agriculture; but as a dairying region it is unexceptionable. Nearly every ranchman keeps from ten to twenty cows, either making butter or selling the milk to the cheese factories at Monument or Spring Valley. Springs abound in the timber and the grass generally is good, so that this industry no doubt will continue to flourish. The summers are noted for severe thunder storms that sometimes do considerable damage. The winters, if the snowfall happens to be abundant, are long and intensely cold Despite these drawbacks, however, there are a number of thrifty villages on the Divide, and improvement is indicated by the building of new houses, barns and fences and the opening up of farms on every hand. There is but little land open for entry, most of it having been early taken up on account of the heavy timber with which it was covered, in the early settlement of the territory. It is said that in many townships not a vacant section of land can be found

At the extreme eastern end of the Divide there is is a very prosperous settlement in Bijou Basin valley. This has been for many years the headquarters of a flourishing stock interest, consisting at first of horses and cattle, but more recently sheep have taken the lead. The basin proper, however, is a rich agricultureal valley about five miles in diameter and surrounded by hills from six hundred to one thousand feet high. The water supply is said to be abundant, though but little effort has thus far been made to utilize it for the purposes of irrigation. The last dry season, however, gave a fresh impetus to canal construction and some ditches were dug. Lying in immediate connection with the agricultural and dairying region of the Divide, with boundless plains to the east, it would seem as though nothing was wanting but intelligent enterprise to make this now sowewhat isolated section of Colorado the distributing point of large agricultural, as well as one of the finest dairying regions in the state.

THE SOCORRO TROUBLE.

Notwithstanding the Terrible Provocation, Law and Order Prevail.

The Santa Fe Democrat Advance special of December 31st has the following concerning the Socorro troubles:

"Following the terrible murder of Mr. A Conklin, editor of the Socorro Sun, on Christmas eve, related in these columns last week, it is not matter of surprise that the town of Socorro should have been in a considerable fever of excitement Following the obsequies of Mr. Conklin on Sunday, the 26th, and which was very largely attended by all classes, came the question what to do with the murderers, who were still at large. Warrants had been issued for their arrest, and offered to Juan M Garcia, the sheriff of Socorro county for service. Garcia, however, refused to make service, and showed, by his conversation and acts, sympathy for the murderers. He is reputed to be a cousin of the guilty parties. The latter were finally arrested, including the sheriff and four men, and detained under a guard of citizens. By Monday morning, the 28th, excitement ran high, and telegrams began arriving at the GAZETTE depot and at many headquarters, the former of which, on application, were kindly presented to us for examination by Secretary Rich, now serving as governor in the absence of Governor Wallace from the territory The following summary of the telegrams will explain themselves The first of these telegrams was from Chief Engineer Robinson, of the N. M. & S. P. road, dated at Las Vegas 28th, and neither of like purport from Gov. Stover, at Albuquerque, to the effect that there was danger of conflict between those sustaining the arrest of the murderers and the friends of the latter, and requested troops to protect railroad property and preserve the peace.

THE ANSWER:

SANTA FE, Dec 28, 1880.

A. A. Robinson, Las Vegas:

General Hatch informs me, this line of communication as represented by the railroad is menaced by a mob, he will, upon such representations to him, station troops accordingly. W. G. RITCH,
Acting Governor.

"A little later, from the same person, came a telegram recording threats of "extermination" and "great danger of bloodshed"

"The dispatch was referred to Colonel Chaves, district attorney, for action, and in reply Governor Ritch telegraphed to prominent persons and to all citizens at Socorro to leave the question of peace or bail to the district judge, with the admonition that "peace must be preserved" and that "troops are en route."

"Then came a telegram from Mr Dougherty, an attorney at Socorro, to the governor, asking that Judge Parks, of that district, come to Socorro. The latter as telegraphed accordingly at Albuquerque, and the Judge responded. Governor Ritch also telegraphed the fact to Mr. Dougherty, and the following in addition; 'I rely to the stability and good sense of Socorro to preserve the peace by all means, let law have its course.'

"About noon, on the day following, a dispatch was received at the executive office from Judge Parks that peace prevailed, but have the troops remain. Theatter were stationed at the postoffice, and General Hatch, upon request, said they would remain for the present.

"It will thus be seen that the civil authorities have acted promptly; that the military have acted in concert, and that under most aggravating circumstances law has prevailed and mob violence kept at bay.

"One of the prisoners, named Annio Baca, having been furnished with a revolver, conveyed to him, as said by one report, in a loaf of bread, fired at the guard, wounded him, and then took to his heels, and was shot and killed while attempting to escape.

"On the afternoon and evening of the 28th, a considerable force of law abiding citizens gathered at Socorro, from the mines and from Albuquerque and San Marcial, and undoubtedly contributed to the preservation of peace.

"The persons under arrest, we understand, were admitted to bail by Judge Parks. It now remains for the law to assert its majesty, hewing to the plumb-line with justice, whoever the family or whatever the influence of the parties engaged in murder. We have simply to add that all talk about "race conflict" is the mere output of diseased imaginations, wholly imaginary and groundless."
